

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Leader in environmental care

Borgarplast is a leading Icelandic company in the field of environmental care and supports a high profile for Iceland in environmental concerns.

IST EN ISO 14001:1996

In 1999 Borgarplast introduced a certificated environmental management system to its Seltjarnarnes factory. At that time less than 6000 companies worldwide had received that recognition. Today (2004) only three Icelandic companies can boast of this certification.

IST EN ISO 14001:1996 Environmental management systems

Borgarplast's rotational moulding division has met the demands of the ISO 14001 standard since 1999. The overall aim of this international standard is to support environmental care and prevention of pollution in coherence with socioeconomic needs. This standard is intended to provide organizations with the elements of an effective environmental management system which can be integrated with other managerial requirements.

Borgarplast's Environmental Policy

Borgarplast is a leading Icelandic company in the field of environmental care and supports a high profile for Iceland in environmental concerns. To achieve this goal the company takes care that:

- Borgarplast's operations are in harmony with the environment and the community.
- Borgarplast's customers can be assured that we set a good example and fulfil the appropriate requirements towards the environment.

It is Borgarplast's policy to fulfil the requirements of ISO 14001 environmental management system. The company works continuously towards improving environmental conditions and prevent pollution and commits itself to adhere to appropriate laws and regulations relating to environmental issues.

